KEYNOTE SPEAKER

David Muir

The senior class officers of the Class of 2018 have selected David Muir, Emmy-winning journalist and anchor of ABC World News Tonight with David Muir, to address degree candidates during spring commencement exercises.

“Through Mr. Muir’s platforms, he uses his influence as one of the most recognized and celebrated journalists around the world to share news, messages, lessons, and insights far beyond the boundaries of his newsroom, his state, and even his country,” says Ariela Rivkin, senior class president. “Because he and his work embody the Wisconsin Idea, he has a profound message to share with every Badger.”

Muir, co-anchor of ABC’s 20/20, succeeded Diane Sawyer in 2014 as anchor and managing editor of ABC World News Tonight. During the 2016–17 TV season, the program was the most-watched evening newscast. The last time ABC took the honor was 21 years earlier, with Peter Jennings as anchor.

Known as a tough and principled reporter, Muir generates global headlines with his exclusive interviews—a “Gen X Walter Cronkite,” as Vanity Fair magazine put it. Muir landed the first post-inauguration interview with President Donald Trump, and he moderated a historic town hall interview with Pope Francis in Spanish at the Vatican in 2015. He won an Emmy for his national conversation with President Barack Obama on race and policing and efforts to bridge the divide.

A magna cum laude graduate of Ithaca College, Muir attended the Institute on Political Journalism at Georgetown University and studied at the University of Salamanca in Spain. He has reported from international hotspots such as Tehran, Tahrir Square, Mogadishu, Gaza, and Fukushima.

Muir has reported numerous award-winning primetime specials for ABC News, most recently “Breaking Point: Heroin in America” and “Flashpoint: Refugees in America.” He has won multiple Emmys, Edward R. Murrow awards, and Society of Professional Journalists honors.

CHANCELLOR

Rebecca M. Blank

Rebecca M. Blank became chancellor of the University of Wisconsin–Madison in July 2013. Since then, she has presided over a major effort to expand and improve educational opportunities, both inside and outside of the classroom, to better prepare students to succeed in a rapidly changing economy. At the same time, she has worked to maintain the university’s position as a global leader in innovation and research and has emphasized the role of the university in nurturing entrepreneurship and driving economic development.

Blank is an internationally respected economist who has also spent time in Washington, D.C., working in three different administrations. Most recently, she served as Deputy Secretary and Acting Secretary of the U.S. Department of Commerce under President Obama.

She also brings strong academic credentials to the position of chancellor. She served as dean and professor of public policy and economics in the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan from 1999 to 2008. In her role as dean, she launched such innovations as interdisciplinary graduate programs and an undergraduate public policy major. Earlier in her career, she was a member of the faculty at Northwestern University and Princeton University.

A native Midwesterner, Blank earned an undergraduate degree in economics from the University of Minnesota and a doctoral degree in economics from MIT.

In 2015, Blank was awarded the Daniel Patrick Moynihan Prize by the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The prize honors individuals who use sound analysis and social science research to inform public policy while also contributing to the public discourse on society’s most pressing issues.

Blank is a frequent speaker on the importance of public research universities. She has been part of a vital national conversation about how to keep these institutions financially stable and thriving.

Her leadership has reinforced UW–Madison’s position as one of the world’s top 25 universities—a center for education, discovery, and research, committed to sharing knowledge and innovation that improves lives in Wisconsin and around the globe.

INTERIM VICE CHANCELLOR
FOR STUDENT AFFAIRS & DEAN OF STUDENTS

Lori M. Berquam

Lori M. Berquam is the interim vice chancellor for student affairs and dean of students at the University of Wisconsin–Madison. After holding a series of student-centered positions at universities across the country, Lori arrived at the University of Wisconsin–Madison in 1995, working for University Housing. She began her time in the Division of Student Life in 2002, as assistant dean, then associate dean. In 2005, Lori became the interim dean of students and was named permanent dean in February 2007. She became the interim vice chancellor in December of 2017 and also serves as an adjunct faculty member in the School of Education.

Under Lori’s leadership, the Division of Student Life strives to create a campus community where students are inspired and prepared to live the Wisconsin Idea. Lori is an ardent student advocate, committed to social justice and to building strong relationships both on and off campus. Currently, as interim vice chancellor for student affairs and dean of students, Lori is leading the transition to a new and centralized office of student affairs. The newly formed office will bring together the Division of Student Life, Recreational Sports, University Health Service, and the Wisconsin Unions to provide a comprehensive student experience for all students at UW–Madison.

She is active in the National Association of Student Affairs Professionals and the Association of Public Land-grant Universities and has served on the Board of Directors for Girl Scouts of Badgerland Council and the Morgridge Center for Public Service. She is often asked to consult at academic institutions across the country on student affairs, student engagement, and crisis management. During her time at UW–Madison, Lori has won a place in students’ hearts for her warm and fun welcome videos each fall and spring where she encourages students to be their authentic selves and embrace the Wisconsin Experience.

Her scholarship focuses on the development of affinity in students for their alma mater and creating a sense of belonging for students. She will continue this scholarship next fall when she leaves her role as dean of students to accept the distinguished American Council on Education (ACE) Fellowship.

Lori is a proud first-generation college graduate who received a BS in Mathematics and Psychology from Truman State University, an MA from the University of Wisconsin–La Crosse, and her PhD in Higher Education Leadership from Colorado State University.

HONORARY DEGREE

Jerome A. Chazen

As a founding partner and later chairman of Liz Claiborne Inc., Jerome Chazen is credited with helping to revolutionize retail with innovative approaches to sales, marketing, distribution, and licensing.

The company, founded in 1975, brought stylish, quality, and affordable clothing to the huge influx of women entering the workforce at the time. By 1989, Fortune magazine recognized it as the largest women's apparel company in the country. Chazen served as chairman from 1989 to 1996.

During his tenure at the company, he inaugurated a foundation to eradicate domestic violence, making Liz Claiborne one of the first major corporations to identify domestic violence as a serious problem and to put its financial muscle behind efforts to address it. He later served on the first National Advisory Council on Violence Against Women.

Today, he is chairman of Chazen Capital Partners, a private investment firm he founded in New York City.

While succeeding in business, Chazen has been driven, with his wife Simona, to better the world through philanthropy. The two met as undergraduates at UW–Madison, where he earned a bachelor's degree in economics in 1948.

He credits a UW–Madison art history course with awakening his interest in the visual arts. In 2011, the Chazen Museum of Art opened at UW–Madison. The couple provided the lead gift and have made a promised gift of much of their art collection. They also have endowed the Simona and Jerome Chazen Distinguished Chair in Art History and the Chazen Family Distinguished Chair in Art. Mr. Chazen serves on the board of directors for the Wisconsin Foundation and Alumni Association.

At Columbia Business School, where Chazen earned his MBA, he established the Jerome A. Chazen Institute for Global Business, which serves as a hub for the school's international initiatives. He is a major supporter of the Museum of Art and Design in New York City, where he is chairman emeritus. The Chazens also are involved in many other civic and cultural organizations in the New York area and nationally.

HONORARY DEGREE

David W. Fahey

David Fahey is an atmospheric scientist of international distinction. One of the world's top experts on global warming, he conducts groundbreaking research that has helped protect the Earth's ozone layer and climate.

Born and raised in Madison, Fahey graduated from Edgewood High School, a Catholic school in the city. He earned a bachelor's degree in physics from UW–Madison in 1975, then a PhD in physics at Missouri University of Science and Technology in Rolla.

He has worked for more than 35 years for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, currently directing its Chemical Sciences Division at the Earth System Research Laboratory in Boulder, Colorado. As manager of a premier federal laboratory, Fahey oversees a team of more than 100 scientists and support staff who conduct research on air quality, climate change and stratospheric ozone depletion.

Known for his work ethic and inventive mind, Fahey has focused his research on atmospheric trace gases and aerosols. He is credited with helping prevent great harm to humanity through his contributions to an international treaty of 197 parties known as the Montreal Protocol on Substances that Deplete the Ozone Layer. The accord, agreed to in 1987, has led to the global phase-out of the most harmful ozone-depleting substances. Fahey currently is a co-chair of the Scientific Assessment Panel of the Montreal Protocol.

In his early scientific work, Fahey developed instrumentation for high-altitude research aircraft to study the gas-phase and aerosol composition of the upper troposphere and lower stratosphere. Later studies have centered on the presence of black carbon in the atmosphere and its effect on global warming. He was a lead author of the 2017 Climate Science Special Report of the US National Climate Assessment. As a science communicator, he co-wrote “Twenty Questions and Answers About the Ozone Layer,” which seeks to help non-scientists, educators, and decision-makers understand the often-complex science of ozone depletion.

Fahey has received the US Department of Commerce Silver and Bronze Medals for meritorious federal service, as well as the American Meteorological Society Henry G. Houghton Award.

HONORARY DEGREE

Linda Thomas-Greenfield

Linda Thomas-Greenfield has been heralded as one of the most effective diplomats of her time and one of the most respected leaders at the US Department of State.

During a brilliant 35-year career in the US Foreign Service, she became known as an architect of US foreign policy in Africa and earned widespread praise for her handling of humanitarian refugee issues. The capstone of her career was her most recent post as Assistant Secretary for African Affairs from 2013 to 2017.

Raised in Louisiana, Thomas-Greenfield was the first in her family to earn a high school diploma, graduating in 1970 from a still-segregated school. She earned a bachelor's degree at Louisiana State University, then a master's degree in public administration at UW–Madison in 1975. During her graduate work at UW–Madison, she undertook a year-long fellowship to do political science research in Liberia. The experience solidified her desire to be a diplomat.

While serving as Regional Refugee Coordinator in Kenya from 1993 to 1996, Thomas-Greenfield was in Rwanda during the country's genocide, where she nearly lost her life. She would go on to work in Pakistan and Afghanistan on refugee issues, and head the Refugee and Migration Affairs Office in Geneva.

Her diplomatic efforts led to peaceful and lawful elections in Nigeria, Ghana, The Gambia and Liberia. She served as Ambassador to Liberia from 2008 to 2012, where she was dubbed “the people's ambassador.” When the Ebola outbreak erupted, she led an international response that effectively slowed and eventually stopped the pandemic. Beyond her Africa career specialization, Thomas-Greenfield served as Director General of the Foreign Service, a position that included the title of Director of Human Resources. She led a team of approximately 400 employees who handled the full range of personnel functions for the State Department's workforce of 70,000 employees.

She is now a distinguished resident fellow in African studies at the Institute for the Study of Diplomacy at Georgetown University. She also is Senior Counselor at Albright Stonebridge Group, a global strategic advisory and commercial diplomacy firm in Washington, DC.

BOARD OF REGENTS

Regina M. Millner

Regina Millner's career as a lawyer and consultant in commercial real estate spans more than 30 years. She has served in leadership positions on the boards of many for-profit and not-for-profit corporations, including MGE Energy, CG Schmidt, the Wisconsin Alumni Association, the UW–Madison Athletic Board, the Wisconsin Real Estate Alumni Association, the Chazen Art Museum Council, and the Chancellor's Advisory Board.

She is also very active in the Madison community, having served on the boards of the Rotary Club of Madison, Meriter Hospital and Health Services, Madison Symphony Orchestra, and the Madison Children's Museum, among others.

A proud Badger alumna, Millner earned her law degree from the University of Wisconsin–Madison Law School and her master's degree in real estate and urban land economics from the Wisconsin School of Business. She earned a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Nebraska–Lincoln. Millner has been on the Board of Regents since 2012 and served as its president from 2015 to 2017.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Senior Class Officers are comprised of two elected officers, the President and Vice President, and three selected officers, the Communications, Events, and Philanthropy Directors. Elections and interviews took place in the spring semester prior to the beginning of their service in the fall of their senior year.

Part of the Division of Student Life, the officers also partner with the Wisconsin Foundation and Alumni Association (WFAA) and the Office of the Chancellor. The Senior Class Officers plan spring and winter commencement as well as senior social events and senior week events in cooperation with WFAA.

Ariela Rivkin, Senior Class President

Born and raised in Teaneck, New Jersey, Rivkin is majoring in Russian language and comparative literature, with a learning certificate in Jewish studies. She is the proud daughter and granddaughter of Jewish refugees from the former Soviet Union, and a proud granddaughter of a former US Coast Guard member. She spent time studying abroad in Nizhny Novgorod, Russia, with the State Department's Critical Language Scholarship program. She is passionate about student-shared governance, having served on committees ranging from the Judiciary Committee on Student Organizations to the Residence Hall Advisory Board. Rivkin served two terms as an elected representative in student government, where she chaired the Grant Allocation Committee. She has loved participating in fundraisers and volunteering for the Make-A-Wish foundation with her sisters in Chi Omega. She serves as a member of the Hillel board of directors to help foster Jewish life on campus. After graduation, she will attend the Boston University School of Law.

Theresa (Trina) La Susa, Senior Class Vice President

La Susa graduated from West Bend East High School as an American Legion award recipient and led the graduation ceremony as mistress of ceremonies. She is majoring in journalism and strategic communication with a certificate in sustainability. She produced and hosted Earthspeak Radio, an environmental talk show at WSUM 91.7FM, and produced a monthly sustainability newsletter as the newsletter associate editor for the Office of Sustainability. Throughout her time at UW–Madison, she has served as a journalist for multiple publications, including The Daily Cardinal, Madison Commons, West Bend Daily News, and Isthmus. Aside from these experiences, she also served as the head planner of the 2016 Flavors of the Philippines Gala for the nonprofit Wisconsin Microfinance, and the bulletin editor of the largest collegiate service organization, Circle K International. After graduation, she will continue writing and reporting in the Madison area.

Haley Young,
Senior Class Communications
Director

Born and raised in Wisconsin, Young is proud to be the first Badger in her family. She's a student of the Wisconsin

School of Business majoring in marketing with a certificate in graphic design, and her biggest passions lie in writing and psychology. Graduating a year early has pushed her to embrace every opportunity available. Young has used her digital marketing knowledge to help many nonprofit and student organizations build their online presence, and she has also been a teaching assistant and mentor for students who enter the Wisconsin School of Business through the direct admission process. She finds solace in relating to those around her — she believes the human experience is meant to be shared. After graduation, Young will move to the mountains of Thailand for two months to work as a marketing intern at a small elephant sanctuary, where she will help the organization further its mission of humane treatment and community sustainability. She'll then return to Madison to work full-time at a digital marketing agency.

Josh Gutzmann,
Senior Class Philanthropy
Director

A transfer student from the University of Pennsylvania, Gutzmann has taken full advantage of the things that make UW—Madison special to him—particularly the Wisconsin Idea. Gutzmann was the secretary of the Hooper Outing Club, the treasurer of the Undergraduate Political Theory Association, a Badger Volunteers leader, and an Americorps Achievement Connections tutor. He has enjoyed professional roles as a house fellow, the community investment intern at American Family Insurance, and a debriefer for the University of Wisconsin Police Department, as well as roles in government at the State Capitol. Influenced by his parents' dedication to public service, Gutzmann is passionate about education, community development, poverty analysis, and law, leading him to major in political science, economics, psychology, and sociology. Gutzmann will begin teaching secondary social studies in Nashville this fall and hopes to eventually pursue a career in policy and administration.

Rheann Engelke,
Senior Class Events
Director

A native of Rewey, Wisconsin, Engelke is majoring in marketing with a certificate in digital studies.

As a freshman, she joined the Wisconsin Homecoming Committee and Women in Business, and began tutoring young students through Badger Volunteers. In her sophomore year, she interned for the Wisconsin Athletic Marketing Department and became president of the Homecoming Committee. During her junior year, she teamed up with the “We’re Better Than That” organization to host a panel discussion about preventing campus sexual assaults, as well as took the reins marketing the Wisconsin Women’s Soccer team’s 2016 season. She spent time studying business in Dublin, Ireland, and last summer interned in brand management for Under Armour in Baltimore, Maryland. This year, Engelke continued her work with Homecoming and joined the marketing team for Men’s Basketball. After graduation, Engelke plans to pursue a career in sports.

The University of Wisconsin–Madison

The University of Wisconsin–Madison and its alumni have a rich tradition of national and international leadership in teaching, research, entrepreneurship, and public service. We regularly rank near the top in research dollars and are rated among the strongest in the world in international reputation. And, as any visitor can readily attest, our beautiful lakeshore campus is considered to be among the nation’s most picturesque.

This university has existed for as long as Wisconsin has been a state, tracing its roots to a clause in the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin decreeing that the young state should have a prominent public university. In 1848, legislators passed a bill that formally created the University of Wisconsin. Its first class, with 17 students, met in Madison on February 5, 1849.

From these humble beginnings, the university has grown into a large, diverse community with more than 43,000 students representing every county in Wisconsin, 50 states, and 123 countries.

Across campus, the words “sifting and winnowing” often appear when describing UW–Madison’s intellectual life. They date back to an 1894 Board of Regents statement on academic freedom:

“Whatever may be the limitations which trammel inquiry elsewhere, we believe that the great state University of Wisconsin should ever encourage that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found.”

Inspired by this spirit, scholarly inquiry has fed a steady stream of discoveries. From vitamins, agricultural techniques and wildlife ecology to stem cells, biofuels and economic well-being, the university continues to foster ideas and research that change lives.

UW–Madison is the oldest and largest campus in the University of Wisconsin System. Its mission is to provide “a learning environment in which faculty, staff, and students can discover, examine critically, preserve and transmit the knowledge, wisdom, and values that will help ensure the survival of this and future generations and improve the quality of life for all.”

The university strives to achieve these ends through the continual advancement of its teaching, research, and public service programs. Throughout its history, the university has sought to bring the power of learning into students’ daily lives through innovations such as residential learning communities and service learning courses.

We are motivated by the “Wisconsin Idea”—articulated a century ago as the principle that the university’s influence should benefit everyone in the state. Today, this principle has expanded to a global scale. The Wisconsin Idea continues to permeate everything we do, helping to forge close partnerships between faculty, staff, and students, and people, communities, and industries around the world.

Program Notes

The school and college flags used in today's ceremony were commissioned for Commencement by Chancellor Rebecca Blank. They are used in this and other similar ceremonies, including the Chancellor's Convocation for incoming students—the complementary celebration to Commencement that begins students' university careers.

The flags' background wave design reflects the university's location along Lake Mendota. Colors on each flag reflect the traditional academic colors for the courses of study within each school or college. The Graduate School, School of Education, and College of Letters & Science are multicolored, representing their varied disciplines. Flags also feature the year in which each school or college was founded, from 1848 for the Law School and School of Medicine and Public Health (authorized in the charter for the newly created university) to 1983 for the School of Veterinary Medicine.

Flag bearers in the opening procession were selected by the dean of each school and college to represent their fellow students:

Honorary Degrees

Honorary degrees from UW–Madison recognize individuals with careers of extraordinary accomplishment. The Committee on Honorary Degrees looks to sustained and characteristic activity as its warrant: uncommonly meritorious activity exhibiting values that are esteemed by UW–Madison. Preference is given to those who are connected in some significant way to the state or the university.

Schools, colleges, and departments submit nominations to the Committee on Honorary Degrees, a central part in the process of awarding honorary degrees. The committee is composed of 28 members, including the chancellor and the UW System president or their designees. 16 members are selected by the faculty, four from each of the four faculty divisions of the university (arts and humanities, biological sciences, physical sciences, social sciences). The chancellor appoints 10 members from the faculty or the administration.

Finalists are submitted to the chancellor and the Board of Regents for review. Once approved, the Faculty Senate votes, with a three-fourths affirmative vote required for confirmation.

As a matter of policy, emeritus faculty members are not eligible for honorary degrees solely on the basis of their performance while at UW–Madison. The university cannot grant honorary degrees to those who have held elected office in the state in the past two years, nor to anyone employed by the University of Wisconsin within the past two years.

Academic Attire

Formal academic attire is an important component of the pageantry of the commencement ceremony.

Gowns

Gowns represent the three principal levels of academic achievement. The bachelor's gown, symbolizing the first degree, is made of black material and has a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master's candidates wear a black gown with a closed front and long, closed sleeves. The gown worn by doctoral candidates has an open front with bell-shaped sleeves. Doctoral gowns are further embellished with velvet trim in the form of crossbars on the sleeves. In spring 2017, the gown designs were updated to include the University of Wisconsin–Madison colors and crest logo, providing both a pop of red among the traditional sea of black and an additional display of UW spirit that's recognizable to all.

Hoods

Academic hoods are used as a further means of identifying the level of degree attainment. The bachelor's hood, worn only by those who have previously received a baccalaureate degree, is rather short with a narrow velvet edging the color of the appropriate discipline and a lining in the color of the institution—cardinal at Wisconsin. The master's hood is considerably longer, has a wider velvet edging and exposes more of the lining. Doctoral hoods have the widest velvet edging, wide panels at either side, greater length, and a fully exposed lining.

Caps and Tassels

Candidates for the bachelor's degree wear the black mortarboard cap with tassels of their course color. The tassel is worn on the right side until the formal conferral of the degree. At that time, the tassel is moved from the right to the left side. Candidates for the Law JD and SJD degrees wear an 8-sided black tam with a gold tassel. Candidates for all advanced degrees wear black mortarboard caps with black tassels on the left side. Some holders of degrees from other countries or institutions wear special hats which are distinctive to their degree. Graduates displaying the red and white philanthropy cord have chosen to make a financial gift commitment of support to the university.

Honors

Bachelor's degree candidates with distinctive scholastic achievement wear cardinal stoles over the fronts of their gowns. Bachelor's degree candidates participating in an honors program wear white stoles with cardinal bars.

This list of undergraduate degree candidates was compiled from information available to the Office of the Registrar as of April 4, 2018, and should not be regarded as conclusive evidence of graduation or academic standing.

UW–Madison does not use Latin honorifics such as cum laude. Students honored for distinctive scholastic achievement have completed a minimum of 60 credits at UW–Madison and have a cumulative grade-point average placing them within the top 20 percent of graduating students in the school or college.

Selection as an honors candidate indicates participation in the Honors Program in the student’s school or college.
