KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Edward Kitsis and Adam Horowitz, creators/executive producers

Edward Kitsis and Adam Horowitz's partnership began in their Introduction to Film class at the University of Wisconsin–Madison. After successfully nabbing a B-minus on their first collaboration, the duo decided to take on Hollywood, and, following graduation, the two moved to Los Angeles to pursue their writing careers. After cutting their teeth on such shows as Popular and Felicity, they joined the writing staff of Lost during its first year. In 2006 they won WGA Awards for their work on the show and, over the course of its six-season run, they earned multiple Emmy, WGA, and PGA nominations, and were honored by the American Film Institute in 2009. For the final two seasons they served as executive producers while simultaneously writing the hit feature film Tron: Legacy and creating the Annie Award–nominated animated television series Tron: Uprising for Disney XD. After Lost, the two immediately began the development process on a pilot that would become their first primetime creation: Once Upon a Time. In 2013 they expanded their storytelling universe with ABC's Once Upon a Time in Wonderland and, most recently, they co-created the summer camp thriller anthology Dead of Summer for Freeform with Ian B. Goldberg.

CHANCELLOR

Rebecca M. Blank

Rebecca M. Blank became chancellor of the University of Wisconsin–Madison in July 2013. Since then, she has presided over a major effort to expand and improve educational opportunities, both inside and outside of the classroom, to better prepare students to succeed in a rapidly changing economy. At the same time, she has worked to maintain the university’s position as a global leader in innovation and research and has emphasized the role of the university in nurturing entrepreneurship and driving economic development.

Blank is an internationally respected economist who has also spent time in Washington, D.C., working in three different administrations. Most recently, she served as Deputy Secretary and Acting Secretary of the U.S. Department of Commerce under President Obama.

She also brings strong academic credentials to the position of chancellor. She served as dean and professor of public policy and economics in the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan from 1999 to 2008. In her role as dean, she launched such innovations as interdisciplinary graduate programs and an undergraduate public policy major. Earlier in her career, she was a member of the faculty at Northwestern University and Princeton University.

A native Midwesterner, Blank earned an undergraduate degree in economics from the University of Minnesota and a doctoral degree in economics from MIT.

In 2015, Blank was awarded the Daniel Patrick Moynihan Prize by the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The prize honors individuals who use sound analysis and social science research to inform public policy while also contributing to the public discourse on society’s most pressing issues.

Blank is a frequent speaker on the importance of public research universities. She has been part of a vital national conversation about how to keep these institutions financially stable and thriving.

Her leadership has reinforced UW–Madison’s position as one of the world’s top 25 universities—a center for education, discovery, and research, committed to sharing knowledge and innovation that improves lives in Wisconsin and around the globe.

PROVOST

Sarah C. Mangelsdorf

Sarah C. Mangelsdorf is the provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of Wisconsin–Madison. She began serving as provost in August 2014.

Mangelsdorf came to Madison after serving six years as the dean of the Judd A. and Marjorie Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences at Northwestern University, where she was also a member of the Department of Psychology. Prior to Northwestern, Mangelsdorf served from 2004 to 2008 as the Henry E. Preble Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign—the first woman to hold that position. She joined the University of Illinois Department of Psychology in 1991 and served as associate provost from 2001 to 2003 and head of the psychology department from 2003 to 2004. She previously served four years as an assistant professor of psychology at the University of Michigan.

Mangelsdorf's scholarship focuses on emotional and personality development in infancy and early childhood, and she is the author of numerous articles in developmental psychology. At the University of Illinois, she was honored several times for her teaching. She won the Mabel Hohenboken Teaching Award in 1997 and the William Prokasy Teaching Award, the college's highest award for teaching, in 1998.

She has served on the editorial boards of five academic journals, and is a fellow of the American Psychological Association. She chaired the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) Arts & Sciences Deans Group and serves as a trustee of the Erikson Institute in Chicago.

Mangelsdorf earned her undergraduate degree in psychology from Oberlin College in Ohio and her doctoral degree in child psychology from the University of Minnesota. In 2012, she received the Distinguished Alumni Achievement Award from the College of Education and Human Development at the University of Minnesota, and in 2013 she was named a fellow in the American Psychological Association (APA).

BOARD OF REGENTS

Regina M. Millner

University of Wisconsin System Regent Regina M. Millner, of Madison, Wisconsin, was first appointed to the board in 2012.

Millner's career as a lawyer and consultant in commercial real estate spans more than 30 years. She has served in leadership positions on the boards of many for-profit and not-for-profit corporations, including MGE Energy, CG Schmidt, the Wisconsin Alumni Association, the UW–Madison Athletic Board, the Wisconsin Real Estate Alumni Association, the Chazen Art Museum Council, and the Chancellor's Advisory Board. She is also very active in the Madison community, having served on the boards of the Rotary Club of Madison, Meriter Hospital and Health Services, Madison Symphony Orchestra, and the Madison Children's Museum, among others.

A proud Badger alumna, Millner earned her law degree from the University of Wisconsin Law School and her master's degree in real estate and urban land economics from the Wisconsin School of Business. She also earned an undergraduate degree in education from the University of Nebraska–Lincoln.

STUDENT KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Jada Kline

Raised in Aurora, Illinois, Jada Kline has enjoyed pursuing her joint interests of advocacy and health care while at UW–Madison by majoring in political science and biology. She is a Chancellor’s Scholar and volunteers with numerous organizations, including AHANA (African, Hispanic, Asian, and Native American) Pre-Health Society, a student organization for those interested in the health professions. She joined AHANA her freshman year and remained active in the group throughout her time on campus, serving on its executive board her junior year. A longtime member of the Wisconsin Black Student Union, she served on its executive board during her sophomore year. She also is a member of the Zeta Xi Core Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., a public service sorority with a primary focus on serving the black community. Her undergraduate research focused on the field of oncology, and her post-graduation plans will keep her in the medical field. She has accepted a job with AbbVie, a biopharmaceutical company she interned with this past summer. She plans to apply for medical school, with an eye toward starting in the summer of 2019.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Senior Class Officers are comprised of two elected officers, the President and Vice President, and three selected officers, the Communications, Philanthropy, and Events Directors. Elections and interviews took place in the spring semester prior to the beginning of their service in the fall of their senior year.

Part of the Division of Student Life, the officers also partner with the Wisconsin Foundation and Alumni Association (WFAA) and the Office of the Chancellor. The Senior Class Officers plan spring and winter commencement as well as senior social events and senior week events in cooperation with WFAA.

Ariela Rivkin, Senior Class President

Born and raised in Teaneck, New Jersey, Rivkin is majoring in Russian language and comparative literature, with a learning certificate in Jewish studies. She is the proud daughter and granddaughter of Jewish refugees from the former Soviet Union, and a proud granddaughter of a former US Coast Guard member. She spent time studying abroad in Nizhny Novgorod, Russia, with the State Department's Critical Language Scholarship program. She is passionate about student shared governance, having served on committees ranging from the Judiciary Committee on Student Organizations to the Residence Hall Advisory Board. Rivkin served two terms as an elected representative in student government, where she chaired the Grant Allocation Committee. She has loved participating in fundraisers and volunteering for the Make-A-Wish foundation with her sisters in Chi Omega. She serves as a member of the Hillel board of directors to help foster Jewish life on campus. After graduation, she hopes to study law.

Trina La Susa, Senior Class Vice President

La Susa graduated from West Bend East High School as an American Legion award recipient and led the graduation ceremony as mistress of ceremonies. She is majoring in journalism and strategic communications with a certificate in sustainability. She produces and hosts Earthspeak Radio, an environmental talk show at WSUM 91.7FM, and produces a monthly sustainability newsletter as the newsletter associate editor for the Office of Sustainability. Throughout her time at UW–Madison, she has served as a journalist for multiple publications including The Daily Cardinal, Madison Commons, West Bend Daily News, and Isthmus. Aside from these campus experiences, she also served as the head planner of the 2016 Flavors of the Philippines Gala for the nonprofit Wisconsin Microfinance, and served as the bulletin editor of the largest collegiate service organization, Circle-K International. She aspires to work in environmental communications and eventually serve as an environmental journalism professor.

Haley Young, Senior Class Communications Director

Born and raised in Wisconsin, Young is proud to be the first Badger in her family. She's a student of the Wisconsin School of Business studying marketing with a certificate in graphic design, but she loves biology and English, too. Graduating a year early has pushed her to embrace every opportunity available. Armed with passions for web design/development and writing, Young has helped many nonprofit and student organizations build online presences over the last three years. She also has been a teaching assistant and mentor for students who enter the business school through the direct admission process, and she finds solace in relating to those around her—she believes the human experience is meant to be shared. After graduation, Young will travel to remote Thailand for two months to work as a marketing intern at an elephant sanctuary, where she will help the burgeoning organization further its mission of humane treatment. Her ultimate goal is to use her communication skills to improve the lives of humans and animals alike.

Joshua Gutzmann, Senior Class Philanthropy Director

Originally from Wisconsin, Gutzmann has taken full advantage of the things that make UW–Madison special to him, particularly the Wisconsin Idea. Gutzmann is a member of the Hoofer Sailing Club, the secretary of the Hoofer Outing Club, the treasurer of the Undergraduate Political Theory Association, a Badger Volunteers leader, and an Americorps Achievement Connections volunteer. He has enjoyed professional roles as a house fellow for University Housing, the community investment intern at American Family Insurance, a debriefer for the University of Wisconsin Police Department, and several roles at the State Capitol. Influenced by his parents' dedication to public service, Gutzmann is passionate about education, community development, poverty analysis, and law, leading him to major in political science, economics, psychology, and sociology. He is particularly interested in pursuing a career in teaching and eventually education policy and administration.

Rheann Engelke, Senior Class Events Director

A native of Rewey, Wisconsin, Engelke is pursuing a degree in marketing with a certificate in digital studies. As a freshman, she joined the Wisconsin Homecoming Committee and Women in Business and began tutoring young students through Badger Volunteers. In her sophomore year, she interned for the Wisconsin Athletic Marketing Department and was president of the Homecoming Committee. During her junior year, she teamed up with the “We’re Better Than That” organization to host a panel discussion about preventing campus sexual assaults. She spent time studying business in Dublin, Ireland, and last summer interned in women’s brand marketing for Under Armour in Baltimore, Maryland. This year, Engelke led the university through Homecoming Week 2017, took the reins marketing the Wisconsin Women’s Soccer team’s 2017 season, joined the marketing team for Men’s Basketball, and continues work with Badger Volunteers. After graduation, Engelke plans to pursue a career as a sports agent.

Program Notes

The school and college flags used in today's ceremony were commissioned for this event by Chancellor Rebecca Blank. They are used in this and other similar ceremonies, including the Chancellor's Convocation for incoming students—the complementary celebration to Commencement in students' university careers.

The flags' background wave design reflects the university's location along Lake Mendota. Colors on each flag reflect the traditional academic colors for the courses of study within each school or college. The Graduate School, School of Education, and College of Letters & Science are multicolored, representing their varied disciplines. Flags also feature the year in which each school or college was founded, from 1848 for the Law School and School of Medicine and Public Health (authorized in the charter for the newly created university) to 1983 for the School of Veterinary Medicine.

Flag bearers in the opening procession were selected by the dean of each school and college to represent their fellow students:

The University of Wisconsin–Madison

The University of Wisconsin–Madison and its alumni have a rich tradition of national and international leadership in teaching, research, entrepreneurship, and public service. We regularly rank near the top in research dollars and are rated among the strongest in the world in international reputation. And, as any visitor can readily attest, our beautiful lakeshore campus is considered to be among the nation's most picturesque.

This university has existed for as long as Wisconsin has been a state, tracing its roots to a clause in the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin decreeing that the young state should have a prominent public university. In 1848, legislators passed a bill that formally created the University of Wisconsin. Its first class, with 17 students, met in Madison on February 5, 1849.

From these humble beginnings, the university has grown into a large, diverse community with more than 43,000 students representing every county in Wisconsin, 50 states, and 121 countries.

Across campus, the words “sifting and winnowing” often appear when describing UW–Madison’s intellectual life. They date back to an 1894 Board of Regents statement on academic freedom:

“Whatever may be the limitations which trammel inquiry elsewhere, we believe that the great state University of Wisconsin should ever encourage that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found.”

Inspired by this spirit, scholarly inquiry has fed a steady stream of discoveries. From vitamins, agricultural techniques, and wildlife ecology to stem cells, biofuels, and economic well-being, the university continues to foster ideas and research that change lives.

UW–Madison is the oldest and largest campus in the University of Wisconsin System. Its mission is to provide “a learning environment in which faculty, staff, and students can discover, examine critically, preserve, and transmit the knowledge, wisdom, and values that will help ensure the survival of this and future generations and improve the quality of life for all.”

The university strives to achieve these ends through the continual advancement of its teaching, research, and public service programs. Throughout its history, the university has sought to bring the power of learning into students’ daily lives through innovations such as residential learning communities and service learning courses.

We are motivated by the “Wisconsin Idea”—articulated a century ago as the principle that the university’s influence should benefit everyone in the state. Today, this principle has expanded to a global scale. The Wisconsin Idea continues to permeate everything we do, helping to forge close partnerships between faculty, staff, and students, and people, communities, and industries around the world.

Academic Attire

Formal academic attire is an important component of the pageantry of the commencement ceremony.

Gowns

Gowns represent the three principal levels of academic achievement. The bachelor's gown, symbolizing the first degree, is made of black material and has a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master's candidates wear a black gown with a closed front and long, closed sleeves. The gown worn by doctoral candidates has an open front with bell-shaped sleeves. Doctoral gowns are further embellished with velvet trim in the form of crossbars on the sleeves. These are generally black but may be colored to represent the profession or major field of interest. Some doctoral gowns are colored to represent the distinctive identity of a particular institution. The latter types of gowns are generally worn without the hood.

Hoods

Academic hoods are used as a further means of identifying the level of degree attainment. The bachelor's hood, worn only by those who have previously received a baccalaureate degree, is rather short with a narrow velvet edging the color of the appropriate discipline and a lining in the color of the institution—cardinal at Wisconsin. The master's hood is considerably longer, has a wider velvet edging and exposes more of the lining. Doctoral hoods have the widest velvet edging, wide panels at either side, greater length and a fully exposed lining.

Caps and Tassels

Candidates for the bachelor's degree wear the black mortarboard cap with tassels of their course color. The tassel is worn on the right side until the formal conferral of the degree. At that time, the tassel is moved from the right to the left side. Candidates for all higher degrees wear black mortarboard caps with black tassels on the left side. Some holders of degrees from other countries or institutions wear special hats which are distinctive to their degree. Graduates displaying the red and white philanthropy cord have chosen to make a financial gift commitment of support to the university.

Honors

Bachelor's degree candidates with distinctive scholastic achievement (the top 20 percent within the school or college) wear cardinal stoles over the fronts of their gowns. Bachelor's degree candidates participating in an honors program wear white stoles with cardinal bars. Law degree candidates who have been awarded the Dean's Academic Achievement Award are similarly distinguished by cardinal stoles.

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE CANDIDATES

This list of undergraduate degree candidates was compiled from information available to the Office of the Registrar as of November 3, 2017 and should not be regarded as conclusive evidence of graduation or academic standing.

Selection as an honors candidate indicates participation in the honors program in the student's school or college and does not necessarily indicate fulfillment of the requirements for a degree with honors.

A student selected for distinctive scholastic achievement has completed a minimum of 60 credits at UW–Madison and has a cumulative grade-point average placing her/him within the top 20% of graduating students in the school or college.
