KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Steven Levitan

The senior class officers of the Class of 2017 have selected Steven Levitan, Emmy Award-winning producer and UW-Madison alum, to address degree candidates during spring commencement exercises.

"The Senior Class Office sought to bring back a Badger who not only put the Wisconsin Idea into action, but who could also ignite a fire in graduates to create their own stories in the next chapter of their lives," says Andre Hunter Jr., senior class president.

Leviton has been making television comedies for more than 20 years. He currently serves as co-creator and executive producer on the hit ABC comedy Modern Family.

As a journalism student at UW-Madison, Levitan was active in the Integrated Liberal Studies program and with Wisconsin Public Radio before graduating in 1984.

After the Chicago native earned his degree in communication arts in 1984, Levitan became a reporter for Madison's ABC affiliate and then worked as a copywriter with the Leo Burnett advertising agency. But screenwriting was his real love, so he moved to Los Angeles and soon landed a spot on the writing team for the show Wings. Levitan later went on to write and produce Frasier, The Larry Sanders Show, and Back to You. He also found success with the first show he created, Just Shoot Me, which aired on NBC for seven years and went into syndication.

Leviton's honors include nine Emmy Awards for writing, producing and directing, five Writers Guild Awards, two Humanitas Prizes, a Peabody Award, five Producers Guild Awards, a Comedy Writer of the Year Award, four AFI awards, two Television Critics Awards, and a DGA nomination.

He credits UW-Madison with helping him learn the skills and work ethic needed to succeed in Hollywood, and he says the many opportunities on campus helped him hone in on the interests that would eventually become his career.

In 2015, Levitan was honored with the Distinguished Alumni Award, the highest honor bestowed by the Wisconsin Alumni Association (WAA). Since 1936, WAA has presented the award to the most prestigious graduates of UW-Madison to recognize their professional achievements, contributions to society, and support of the university.

CHANCELLOR
Rebecca M. Blank

Rebecca M. Blank became chancellor of the University of Wisconsin–Madison in July 2013. Since then, she has presided over a major effort to expand and improve educational opportunities, both inside and outside of the classroom, to better prepare students to succeed in a rapidly changing economy. At the same time, she has worked to maintain the university’s position as a global leader in innovation and research and has emphasized the role of the university in nurturing entrepreneurship and driving economic development.

Blank is an internationally respected economist who has also spent time in Washington, D.C., working in three different administrations. Most recently, she served as Deputy Secretary and Acting Secretary of the U.S. Department of Commerce under President Obama.

She also brings strong academic credentials to the position of chancellor. She served as dean and professor of public policy and economics in the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan from 1999 to 2008. In her role as dean, she launched such innovations as interdisciplinary graduate programs and an undergraduate public policy major. Earlier in her career, she was a member of the faculty at Northwestern University and Princeton University.

A native Midwesterner, Blank earned an undergraduate degree in economics from the University of Minnesota and a doctoral degree in economics from MIT.

In 2015, Blank was awarded the Daniel Patrick Moynihan Prize by the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The prize honors individuals who use sound analysis and social science research to inform public policy while also contributing to the public discourse on society’s most pressing issues.

Blank is a frequent speaker on the importance of public research universities. She has been part of a vital national conversation about how to keep these institutions financially stable and thriving.

Her leadership has reinforced UW–Madison’s position as one of the world’s top 25 universities—a center for education, discovery, and research, committed to sharing knowledge and innovation that improves lives in Wisconsin and around the globe.

PROVOST

Sarah C. Mangelsdorf

Sarah C. Mangelsdorf is the provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of Wisconsin–Madison. She began serving as provost in August 2014.

Mangelsdorf came to Madison after serving six years as the dean of the Judd A. and Marjorie Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences at Northwestern University, where she was also a member of the Department of Psychology. Prior to Northwestern, Mangelsdorf served from 2004 to 2008 as the Henry E. Preble Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign—the first woman to hold that position. She joined the University of Illinois Department of Psychology in 1991 and served as associate provost from 2001 to 2003 and head of the psychology department from 2003 to 2004. She previously served four years as an assistant professor of psychology at the University of Michigan.

Mangelsdorf's scholarship focuses on emotional and personality development in infancy and early childhood, and she is the author of numerous articles in developmental psychology. At the University of Illinois, she was honored several times for her teaching. She won the Mabel Hohenboken Teaching Award in 1997 and the William Prokasy Teaching Award, the college's highest award for teaching, in 1998.

She has served on the editorial boards of five academic journals, and is a fellow of the American Psychological Association. She chaired the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) Arts & Sciences Deans Group and serves as a trustee of the Erikson Institute in Chicago.

Mangelsdorf earned her undergraduate degree in psychology from Oberlin College in Ohio and her doctoral degree in child psychology from the University of Minnesota. In 2012, she received the Distinguished Alumni Achievement Award from the College of Education and Human Development at the University of Minnesota, and in 2013 she was named a fellow in the American Psychological Association (APA).

HONORARY DEGREE

Cora Marrett

Cora Marrett grew up in segregated Kenbridge, Virginia, as the twelfth child of parents with sixth-grade educations. Despite their limited formal education, they always encouraged her to learn.

Throughout her career, Marrett has worked to make science more inclusive by using social science research to identify the institutional conditions that promote inclusion and success for people from underrepresented backgrounds and the best educational strategies for teaching science in ways that inspire new generations of scientists. She stresses that inclusive science is better science, as it draws on and nurtures the talent of people from all backgrounds.

Marrett holds a bachelor's degree from Virginia Union University and a master's degree and a doctorate from the University of Wisconsin–Madison, all in sociology.

She held faculty positions at the University of North Carolina–Chapel Hill and Western Michigan University before returning to UW–Madison as a faculty member in 1974. From 1992 to 1996, she was an assistant director at the National Science Foundation (NSF), where she led the newly formed directorate for the social, behavioral, and economic sciences.

In 1997, Marrett moved to the University of Massachusetts–Amherst as Provost, Senior Vice Chancellor of Affairs, and professor of sociology and Afro-American Studies. From 2001 to 2007, Marrett was the University of Wisconsin System's Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs. In 2007, she was hired once again as an NSF assistant director, which led to the job of acting director in 2010 and finally deputy director in May 2011.

While at UW–Madison, she was regarded as a stellar teacher and mentor and was recognized by the Wisconsin Alumni Association in 2012 with a Distinguished Alumni Award. She had appointments in sociology and Afro-American Studies, and was affiliated with the Energy Analysis and Policy Program and the Wisconsin Center for Education Research.

Tashia Morgridge

Tashia Morgridge grew up in Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, and met her husband, John, while attending Wauwatosa High School. Both attended UW–Madison, with Tashia earning a bachelor’s degree and later receiving a master’s degree from Lesley University in Massachusetts. Tashia was an elementary school teacher while John studied for his MBA at Stanford. She then stayed home while their three children were small and John started his career. After graduating from Lesley University, Tashia was a special education teacher for 13 years.

As an educator, advocate, volunteer, and philanthropist, Morgridge has made incredible contributions to improve the state of public education throughout Wisconsin, across the country, and around the world.

As an alumna of the School of Education, Morgridge serves on the Board of Visitors, participating in biannual meetings and providing feedback on school initiatives. In addition, she encourages civic engagement among students across the UW–Madison campus through the Morgridge Center for Public Service. Along with John, Tashia serves on the board of the Morgridge Institute for Research at the Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery. In 2012, the Board of Regents honored the Morgridges with its inaugural Regents’ Award for Distinguished Service to the University of Wisconsin System.

Morgridge is former chair of the Board of Directors of the Haas Center for Public Service at Stanford University and an ex-officio member of the Board of the Morgridge Center for Public Service. She is president of the TOSA Foundation, the family charitable arm she and John established in 1992, and she deeply values her role as a philanthropist.

The Morgridges donated in 2004 to renovate and expand Bascom Hill’s 110-year-old Education Building, which was rededicated in a 2010 ceremony. In 2006, their donation helped to establish the Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery, which celebrated its grand opening in 2010. In 2007, the Morgridges endowed and created the Fund for Wisconsin Scholars. The Fund for Wisconsin Scholars annually awards nearly 3,000 grants to low-income students attending one of Wisconsin’s public colleges or universities. In 2014, the Morgridges committed matching funds to encourage other donors to step forward and create endowed professorships and chairs for faculty support. It is the largest donation in UW–Madison history.

Clyde Stubblefield

Clyde Stubblefield was born in Chattanooga, Tennessee, but called Madison home since the 1970s until his untimely death February 18, 2017.

For years, he kept the beat for James Brown, performing on “Funky Drummer,” a song with a drum break that is among the world’s most sampled, being used by Public Enemy, Beastie Boys, Prince, George Michael, Sinead O’Connor, and many, many others.

Stubblefield used music to help bring people together, playing with James Brown at Boston Garden after the death of Martin Luther King Jr., and performing for soldiers in Vietnam as part of Brown’s band.

From the early 1990s to 2015, he performed on the nationally syndicated public radio show Michael Feldman’s “Whad’Ya Know” on Wisconsin Public Radio.

His innovative style was recognized in 1990 when he was named Drummer of the Year by Rolling Stone. In 2016, Rolling Stone again honored him, naming him the sixth best drummer of all time (second best living).

In 2000, he was inducted into the Wisconsin Area Music Industry Hall of Fame. In 2004, he received the lifetime achievement award at the Madison Area Music Awards. Madison Mayor Paul Soglin declared Oct. 10, 2015, Clyde Stubblefield Day.

All of the accolades aside, Stubblefield perhaps made his biggest impact by inspiring numerous musicians with his music and also made a point of helping young musicians learn the ropes and establish their careers, whether with words of wisdom or inviting them to join him on stage.

Stubblefield’s music is still enjoyed by people throughout the world and is a musical example of the Wisconsin Idea.

BOARD OF REGENTS

Janice Mueller

University of Wisconsin System Regent Janice Mueller was appointed to the Board of Regents in 2013, and currently serves as Chair of the Board's Business and Finance Committee and as a member of its Executive and Audit Committees.

Mueller was employed by the State of Wisconsin for 35 years, including serving as Wisconsin's State Auditor and head of the nonpartisan Legislative Audit Bureau from 1998 until her retirement in 2011.

Prior to her appointment as State Auditor, she served in various management positions at the Legislative Audit Bureau and as a budget analyst at the nonpartisan Legislative Fiscal Bureau. Mueller has also contributed to many national, state, and local professional organizations.

Mueller earned her bachelor of arts degree, summa cum laude, from Central Michigan University in 1974.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Senior Class Officers are comprised of two elected officers, the President and Vice President, and three selected officers, the Communications, Events, and Philanthropy Directors. Elections and interviews took place in the spring semester prior to the beginning of their service in the fall of their senior year.

Part of the Division of Student Life, the officers also partner with the Wisconsin Foundation and Alumni Association (WFAA) and the Office of the Chancellor. The Senior Class Officers plan spring and winter commencement as well as senior social events and senior week events in cooperation with WFAA.

Andre Hunter Jr., Senior Class President

From Chicago, Illinois, Hunter is the son of a first-generation college student and of a former public school teacher and public official. A political science major, with a certificate in entrepreneurship, he has served in all three branches of student government while on campus, including two terms as a representative and as the student body secretary during his freshman year. Hunter was voted “College Democrat of the Year” by the College Democrats State Federation, and founded a statewide alumni association of more than 300 members before being elected as statewide vice chair and as a national council member. He recently received the 2017 Most Outstanding Senior Award at the UW-Madison Bucky Awards. Besides his love of politics, Hunter enjoys traveling around the world as well as playing basketball and volleyball. Upon graduation, he will study franchise management at Georgetown University and will pursue a JD at Loyola University Chicago in the fall. Hunter aspires to work in both the legal industry and the political arena.

Martin Barron Weiss, Senior Class Vice President

Weiss is the first member of his family to attend the University of Wisconsin–Madison. A history major who enjoys studying French, he is an Indianapolis, Indiana, native and has enjoyed performing from a young age. As a freshman, Weiss was a member of the Wisconsin Singers, a group of traveling musical ambassadors for the university. As a sophomore, he was a standout performer in the annual variety show Humorology, receiving the award for best male performer, and he has served on the UW Chabad student board, a Jewish student life group. Weiss is also a recipient of the outstanding member of the Greek community award and is a proud brother of the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity. He spent his junior year at the helm of the Humorology executive board, the largest student-run philanthropic event in the state of Wisconsin, raising more than $135,000 for local Dane County charities. After graduation, Weiss plans to move to New York City to pursue a career in acting for the stage and screen.

Scott Bembeneck,
Senior Class Communications
Director

Born in Milwaukee and raised in New Berlin, Wisconsin, Bembeneck is a proud student of the School of Journalism and Mass Communication studying strategic communications and English with certificates in digital and European studies. He has spent time working as both a writer and member of the social media team at The Daily Cardinal, as well as writing for Souvenirs Magazine on campus. Bembeneck enjoys traveling and while studying in Rome, Italy, he had the opportunity to volunteer in local high schools, which inspired him to get more involved at UW–Madison by volunteering with the Law School’s Family Court Clinic. He spent the past summer in Washington, D.C., as an intern at Points of Light, the world’s largest organization dedicated to volunteer service. His most recent experiences working remotely for the United States Mission to the United Nations and for Martin Schreiber & Associates in Madison have inspired him to pursue a career with a global impact in which he can help people within and outside the United States.

Akmal Hakim Hamid,
Senior Class Philanthropy
Director

Born and raised in Malaysia, Hamid is a marketing major in the Wisconsin School of Business. He has served as the finance director of TEDx UW–Madison, vice president of National Society of Collegiate Scholars, marketing chair of Muslim Students Association, and president of Malaysian Islamic Students Association. Hamid spends most of his time spreading love and understanding, and breaking down stereotypes against Muslims and People of Color through photography. He credits his parents, Chen Na and Syed Hamid Ali, for his interest in racial and political justice which got him actively involved in humanitarian efforts toward peace and understanding. Outside of class, Hamid is an independent photography contractor, enjoys hiking, and has a passion for rock music. After graduation, he plans to launch his own marketing agency in the music industry before realizing his life dream as a social activist.

Haley Jo Kimmen,
Senior Class Events Director

Kimmen is from Hastings, Minnesota, and will earn her degree in sociology as well as certificates in business and leadership. She served as the public relations manager for Love Your Melon–UW–Madison Campus Crew, a student-run organization dedicated to the fight against pediatric cancer. She volunteers in local hospitals with her crew and helps plan adventures for the tiny superheroes battling cancer. She has also worked with the Center for Leadership & Involvement coordinating the Student Organization Fair each semester, and served as an organization development consultant to provide student organizations with education and support for growth. Off campus, she enjoyed interning for the Wisconsin State Senate in campaign and communications positions. After graduation, she will attend Vanderbilt University to earn a master of marketing and pursue a career in branding.

The University of Wisconsin–Madison

The University of Wisconsin–Madison and its alumni have a rich tradition of national and international leadership in teaching, research, entrepreneurship, and public service. We regularly rank near the top in research dollars and are rated among the strongest in the world in international reputation. And, as any visitor can readily attest, our beautiful lakeshore campus is considered to be among the nation's most picturesque.

This university has existed for as long as Wisconsin has been a state, tracing its roots to a clause in the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin decreeing that the young state should have a prominent public university. In 1848, legislators passed a bill that formally created the University of Wisconsin. Its first class, with 17 students, met in Madison on February 5, 1849.

From these humble beginnings, the university has grown into a large, diverse community with more than 43,000 students representing every county in Wisconsin, 50 states, and 127 countries.

Across campus, the words “sifting and winnowing” often appear when describing UW–Madison’s intellectual life. They date back to an 1894 Board of Regents statement on academic freedom:

“Whatever may be the limitations which trammel inquiry elsewhere, we believe that the great state University of Wisconsin should ever encourage that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found.”

Inspired by this spirit, scholarly inquiry has fed a steady stream of discoveries. From vitamins, agricultural techniques and wildlife ecology to stem cells, biofuels and economic well-being, the university continues to foster ideas and research that change lives.

UW–Madison is the oldest and largest campus in the University of Wisconsin System. Its mission is to provide “a learning environment in which faculty, staff, and students can discover, examine critically, preserve and transmit the knowledge, wisdom, and values that will help ensure the survival of this and future generations and improve the quality of life for all.”

The university strives to achieve these ends through the continual advancement of its teaching, research, and public service programs. Throughout its history, the university has sought to bring the power of learning into students’ daily lives through innovations such as residential learning communities and service learning courses.

We are motivated by the “Wisconsin Idea”—articulated a century ago as the principle that the university’s influence should benefit everyone in the state. Today, this principle has expanded to a global scale. The Wisconsin Idea continues to permeate everything we do, helping to forge close partnerships between faculty, staff, and students, and people, communities, and industries around the world.

Program Notes

The school and college flags used in today's ceremony were commissioned for Commencement by Chancellor Rebecca Blank. They are used in this and other similar ceremonies, including the Chancellor's Convocation for incoming students—the complementary celebration to Commencement that begins students' university careers.

The flags' background wave design reflects the university's location along Lake Mendota. Colors on each flag reflect the traditional academic colors for the courses of study within each school or college. The Graduate School, School of Education, and College of Letters & Science are multicolored, representing their varied disciplines. Flags also feature the year in which each school or college was founded, from 1848 for the Law School and School of Medicine and Public Health (authorized in the charter for the newly created university) to 1983 for the School of Veterinary Medicine.

Flag bearers in the opening procession were selected by the dean of each school and college to represent their fellow students:

Honorary Degrees

Honorary degrees from UW–Madison recognize individuals with careers of extraordinary accomplishment. The Committee on Honorary Degrees looks to sustained and characteristic activity as its warrant: uncommonly meritorious activity exhibiting values that are esteemed by UW–Madison. Preference is given to those who are connected in some significant way to the state or the university.

Schools, colleges, and departments submit nominations to the Committee on Honorary Degrees, a central part in the process of awarding honorary degrees. The committee is composed of 28 members, including the chancellor and the UW System president or their designees. 16 members are selected by the faculty, four from each of the four faculty divisions of the university (arts and humanities, biological sciences, physical sciences, social sciences). The chancellor appoints 10 members from the faculty or the administration.

Finalists are submitted to the chancellor and the Board of Regents for review. Once approved, the Faculty Senate votes, with a three-fourths affirmative vote required for confirmation.

As a matter of policy, emeritus faculty members are not eligible for honorary degrees solely on the basis of their performance while at UW–Madison. The university cannot grant honorary degrees to those who have held elected office in the state in the past two years, nor to anyone employed by the University of Wisconsin within the past two years.

Academic Attire

Formal academic attire is an important component of the pageantry of the commencement ceremony.

Gowns

Gowns represent the three principal levels of academic achievement. The bachelor's gown, symbolizing the first degree, is made of black material and has a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master's candidates wear a black gown with a closed front and long, closed sleeves. The gown worn by doctoral candidates has an open front with bell-shaped sleeves. Doctoral gowns are further embellished with velvet trim in the form of crossbars on the sleeves. In spring 2017, the gown designs were updated to include the University of Wisconsin–Madison colors and crest logo, providing both a pop of red among the traditional sea of black and an additional display of UW spirit that's recognizable to all.

Hoods

Academic hoods are used as a further means of identifying the level of degree attainment. The bachelor's hood, worn only by those who have previously received a baccalaureate degree, is rather short with a narrow velvet edging the color of the appropriate discipline and a lining in the color of the institution—cardinal at Wisconsin. The master's hood is considerably longer, has a wider velvet edging and exposes more of the lining. Doctoral hoods have the widest velvet edging, wide panels at either side, greater length, and a fully exposed lining.

Caps and Tassels

Candidates for the bachelor's degree wear the black mortarboard cap with tassels of their course color. The tassel is worn on the right side until the formal conferral of the degree. At that time, the tassel is moved from the right to the left side. Candidates for all higher degrees wear black mortarboard caps with black tassels on the left side. Some holders of degrees from other countries or institutions wear special hats which are distinctive to their degree. Graduates displaying the red and white philanthropy cord have chosen to make a financial gift commitment of support to the university.

Honors

Bachelor's degree candidates with distinctive scholastic achievement (the top 20 percent within the school or college) wear cardinal stoles over the fronts of their gowns. Bachelor's degree candidates participating in an honors program wear white stoles with cardinal bars. Law degree candidates who have been awarded the Dean's Academic Achievement Award are similarly distinguished by cardinal stoles.

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE CANDIDATES

This list of undergraduate degree candidates was compiled from information available to the Office of the Registrar as of March 31, 2017, and should not be regarded as conclusive evidence of graduation or academic standing.

UW–Madison does not use Latin honorifics such as cum laude. Students honored for distinctive scholastic achievement have completed a minimum of 60 credits at UW–Madison and have a cumulative grade-point average placing them within the top 20 percent of graduating students in the school or college.

Selection as an honors candidate indicates participation in the Honors Program in the student's school or college.
