Commencement

Bachelor and Graduate Degree Candidates

Spring 2021

A message from Chancellor Rebecca Blank:

Congratulations to the University of Wisconsin–Madison Class of 2021! I join your family and friends in congratulating you on everything you have accomplished, and I want to thank you for the contributions you’ve made to the university during your time here.

The Class of 2021 has spent their entire final year under the constraints imposed by COVID-19. Throughout the course of this past year, I have been impressed by the resilience and grace you’ve demonstrated in the face of upheaval and uncertainty. I want to extend a special thank you to the family and friends whose love and support has helped carry you through.

Students come to UW–Madison because they want to be actively involved in understanding and solving complex problems, but it is rare for a graduating class to immediately confront problems that impact all of humanity. This class faces the twin challenges of helping to build a future that strengthens us against future pandemics and rooting out systemic racism to put an end to inequity and injustice. Your UW–Madison diploma will tell the world you’re ready and able to be a part of this vital work.

At each commencement ceremony, I have the privilege of welcoming our newest graduates to the worldwide family of Badger alumni. Wherever your next opportunity takes you, your fellow Badgers will be there to support you.

And every once in a while, I hope you’ll stop by or check in to let us know how you’re doing. We want to celebrate your future achievements with you.

Congratulations and On, Wisconsin!

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

André De Shields

Multi-talented Broadway star André De Shields has it all—a Tony, a Grammy, an Obie, an Emmy, and (most important of all) a diploma from Wisconsin’s flagship university.

His participation in spring commencement coincides with another milestone—the Class of 1970, of which De Shields is a member, officially joined the Wisconsin Alumni Association’s Half Century Club this spring.

When the pandemic hit last year, De Shields was playing to packed houses on Broadway as the Greek god Hermes in Hadestown, a musical based on the Greek myth about Orpheus in the underworld. The production won the 2019 Tony Award for Best Musical, and De Shields won the Tony Award for Featured Actor in a Musical. He also won Drama Desk and Outer Critics Circle awards for the role, and the cast won a Grammy for Best Musical Theater Album.

De Shields has never been more in demand. In addition to his stage work, he has reached new audiences with a starring role in this year’s Ratatouille: The TikTok Musical and a splashy song-and-dance number in the 2019 Netflix film John Mulaney & the Sack Lunch Bunch.

Raised in Baltimore, De Shields earned a bachelor’s degree in English literature from UW–Madison in 1970. He appeared in many stage productions during his time in Madison, both on campus and in the community. By the time he graduated, he already was a working actor—he missed his commencement ceremony because he was appearing in a Chicago production of Hair. In 1991, De Shields earned a master’s degree in African American Studies from New York University.

Prior to his 2019 Tony Award win, De Shields was best known for his show-stopping performances in four legendary Broadway productions: The Wiz, Ain’t Misbehavin’ (for which he won an Emmy Award), Play On! (Tony nomination), and The Full Monty (Tony nomination). In 2007, he was presented an Off-Broadway Theater Award, or Obie, for Sustained Excellence of Performance.

His TV credits include appearances on Sex and the City, Law & Order, Rescue Me, Great Performances, and New Amsterdam.

HONORARY DEGREE

John Gottman, PhD

John Gottman, PhD, an alumnus of UW–Madison, is one of the most prominent psychologists in the country and world renowned for his work on marital stability and divorce prediction. His highly influential scientific work has shaped and, indeed, set the standard for research on the complex nature of relationships and the factors that contribute to relationship success and failure.

Gottman earned a master's degree in clinical psychology–mathematics from UW–Madison in 1967 and a doctorate in clinical psychology from UW–Madison in 1971. Prior to that, he earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics–physics from Fairleigh Dickinson University and a master's degree in mathematics–psychology from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After holding faculty positions at Indiana University and the University of Illinois, Gottman joined the Department of Psychology at the University of Washington in 1986.

Gottman was the first to develop rigorous mathematical analyses of behavior to objectively describe relationships in couples. His background in mathematics was the key to the development of this, which at the time was a groundbreaking experimental approach. These analytical methods have since had great relevance to many other areas in the study of human behavior.

In 1996, he co-founded The Gottman Institute in Seattle with his wife, Julie Schwartz Gottman, PhD. Its mission is to “create and maintain greater love and health in relationships.”

John Gottman is the author or co-author of more than 200 published academic articles and more than forty books, including the bestselling The Seven Principles for Making Marriage Work; What Makes Love Last; Eight Dates: Essential Conversations for a Lifetime of Love; The Relationship Cure; Why Marriages Succeed or Fail; and Raising An Emotionally Intelligent Child. His media appearances include Good Morning America, Today, CBS Morning News, and Oprah.

In 2002, Gottman became an emeritus professor of psychology at the University of Washington and the executive director of the Relationship Institute in Seattle.

CHANCELLOR

Rebecca M. Blank

Rebecca M. Blank became chancellor of the University of Wisconsin–Madison in July 2013. Since then, she has presided over a major effort to expand access and improve educational outcomes, making sure that students are prepared to succeed in a rapidly changing economy. At the same time, she has worked to maintain the university’s position as a global leader in innovation and research, nurturing entrepreneurship and driving economic development.

Blank is an internationally respected economist who worked in three different presidential administrations. Most recently, she served as Deputy Secretary and Acting Secretary of the US Department of Commerce under President Obama.

She also brings strong academic credentials to the position of chancellor. She served as dean and professor of public policy and economics in the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan from 1999 to 2008. In her role as dean, she launched such innovations as interdisciplinary graduate programs and an undergraduate public policy major. Earlier in her career, she was a member of the faculty at Northwestern University and Princeton University.

A native Midwesterner, Blank earned an undergraduate degree in economics from the University of Minnesota and a doctoral degree in economics from MIT.

Blank is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and has received numerous awards, including the Daniel Patrick Moynihan Prize given by the American Academy of Political and Social Science to individuals who use social science research to inform public policy while also contributing to the public discourse on society’s most pressing issues.

Blank is a frequent speaker on the importance of public research universities. She has been part of a vital national conversation about how to keep these institutions financially stable and thriving.

Her leadership has burnished UW–Madison’s reputation as one of the world’s top universities—a center for education, discovery, and research, committed to sharing knowledge and innovation that improves lives in Wisconsin and around the globe.

PROVOST

John Karl Scholz

John Karl Scholz began serving as provost in August 2019 after six years as the dean of the College of Letters & Science at UW–Madison. Scholz is also the Nellie June Gray Professor of Economic Policy in the Department of Economics, which he joined in 1988.

From 1997 to 1998, Scholz was the deputy assistant secretary for tax analysis at the US Treasury Department, and from 1990 to 1991 he was a senior staff economist at the Council of Economic Advisors. Scholz directed the Institute for Research on Poverty at UW–Madison from 2000 to 2004.

Professor Scholz is an internationally respected economist whose work on household saving, low-wage labor markets, financial barriers to higher education, and bankruptcy has appeared in leading economics journals.

A native of Nebraska, Scholz graduated from Carleton College in Northfield, Minnesota, and earned his doctorate from Stanford University.

BOARD OF REGENTS

Scott Beightol

Regent Scott Beightol is a partner in the Milwaukee office of the Michael Best law firm, where he represents businesses in all aspects of employment and labor relations law.

A 1988 graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School, Beightol frequently is included in rankings of top lawyers in his field. The Business Journals, a network of publications, recognized him as a most notable attorney among 100 in the nation making an impact on businesses and communities. Since 2011, he has been named one of the “100 Most Powerful Employment Lawyers” by the magazine Human Resources Executive.

Beightol is a member of the US Chamber of Commerce National Public Affairs Committee; a board member of The Water Council, a Milwaukee-based global water technology hub; a board member of the United Performing Arts Council; and a vice chair and board member of the Metropolitan Milwaukee Association of Commerce. In the past, Beightol was a director of the Milwaukee Public Museum and an elected trustee of the Village of Whitefish Bay.

Beightol earned a bachelor’s degree from the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts, in 1985. In law school, he was the Senior Note and Comment Editor for the Wisconsin Law Review. He has served on the UW System Board of Regents since 2018.

STUDENT SPEAKER

Lusayo Mwakatika

Student commencement speaker Lusayo Mwakatika brings to the role years of experience in public speaking and in leadership positions on and off campus. He's equally comfortable in front of a class, in a boardroom, or on the stage of a comedy club.

Originally from Malawi, often called “the warm heart of Africa” for its kind people, Mwakatika is part of the first cohort of the King-Morgridge Scholars Program. The program endows six scholarships each year to enterprising, creative students from select foreign countries who are committed to poverty alleviation.

Mwakatika has stood out since his first semester on campus. As a freshman, he beat more than 700 students to win the Communication Arts 100 Speech Contest, a longstanding tradition that occurs each semester as teaching assistants select their top students for the competition. Lusayo is also a member of the Wisconsin Speech and Debate team at UW–Madison and competed in impromptu speaking at this year's National Forensics Association's National Tournament.

With his interest in agriculture and food equality, Mwakatika has been an energizing force behind Project Malawi, a UW–Madison student organization that raises money for projects in Malawi, many of them related to farming. As president of the organization since 2019, Mwakatika has greatly strengthened its ties with the International Internship Program at UW–Madison and the Associated Center for Agro-based Development (ACADES), which teaches agricultural business skills to youth in Malawi. Mwakatika has been instrumental in the development of an internship program for ACADES and in helping to establish ACADES as a US nonprofit organization.

Mwakatika served as an administrative intern with the African Studies Department and, this year, as the philanthropy director for the senior class. He has a special passion for stand-up comedy and has performed at the Comedy Club on State Street, at African Student Association events in Madison, and on stages in San Francisco, Chicago, and New York.

Mwakatika is graduating with a bachelor's degree in agricultural business management. After graduation, he plans to return to Malawi and work with ACADES to develop a microfinance program.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Senior Class Officers comprise two elected officers, the President and Vice President, and three selected officers, the Communications, Events, and Philanthropy Directors. Elections and interviews took place in the spring semester prior to the beginning of their service in the fall of their senior year.

Part of the Division of Student Life, the officers also partner with the Wisconsin Foundation and Alumni Association (WFAA) and the Office of the Chancellor. The Senior Class Officers plan spring and winter commencement as well as senior social events and senior week events in cooperation with WFAA.

Alec Bukowiec, Senior Class President

Alec is a proud Wisconsinite from Chase, Wisconsin, just outside of Green Bay. He is majoring in marketing with a certificate in digital studies. Alec's leadership on campus has taken many forms since arriving in 2017. For his final year as an undergraduate student, his focus has been the Senior Class Office and the students it represents. In Alec's free time he enjoys playing beach volleyball, watching documentaries, and enjoying the little things in life with family and friends. After graduation, Alec will be moving to Chicago to begin his next journey working in the financial services industry as a marketing professional. He plans to keep close ties to Wisconsin through his family and on the UW-Madison campus as an alumnus.

Paige Schultz, Senior Class Vice President

Paige grew up in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin. She is majoring in both actuarial science and risk management & insurance.

Throughout her college experience, she has been a dedicated member of the UW-Madison chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi and actively participates in various animal welfare organizations. For her final year on campus, Paige has put much of her extra-curricular focus into her Senior Class Office role. Following graduation, she will be working in Chicago as an actuarial consultant. Until then, you can find Paige walking her dog, playing cards with friends at the Terrace, or admiring Wisconsin's beautiful Capitol building.

Lusayo Mwakatika,
Senior Class Philanthropy
Director

Lusayo is an international student from Malawi studying agricultural business management.

He is currently the president of Project Malawi, an organization that works on fundraising for different agricultural organizations in Malawi. He is passionate about agriculture, and after graduation, he wants to work on development issues related to agriculture. Lusayo also likes playing soccer and performing standup comedy during his free time.

Dalila Ricci,
Senior Class Events
Director

Dalila is an East Coast native, hailing from Maplewood, New Jersey. She is majoring in civil engineering and specializes in construction project management. Dalila currently also serves as vice president of internal affairs for The Society of Hispanic Professional Engineering (SHPE) and as associate director of marketing for The Wisconsin Union Directorate, Global Connections Committee. Outside of these roles, she enjoys showcasing her passion for teaching as a calculus tutor for the College of Engineering's Undergraduate Learning Center. Following graduation, Dalila will return to New York to pursue a career in construction project management.

Calli Hughes,
Senior Class Communications
Director

Calli holds a lot of pride in being from Red Wing, MN, home of the world's largest boot. She is majoring in mathematics and community and nonprofit leadership with a certificate in education and educational services. She is the organizational outreach branch coordinator of the Student Leadership Program, a very active student organization. Additionally, Calli is an intern at the School of Human Ecology and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. In her free time, she enjoys working on Lego Creator Vehicles, cooking, and spending time outside. Calli has a passion for education and student-based change and hopes to support this passion in her future as a teacher, politician, or NPO professional. Following graduation, Calli hopes to venture to New Zealand for a few months to travel via Campervan. After which, she will make a career-based plan to pursue additional education or join the workforce.

The University of Wisconsin–Madison

The University of Wisconsin–Madison and its alumni have a rich tradition of national and international leadership in teaching, research, entrepreneurship, and public service. We regularly rank near the top in research dollars and are rated among the strongest in the world in international reputation. And, as any visitor can readily attest, our beautiful lakeshore campus is considered to be among the nation’s most picturesque.

This university has existed for as long as Wisconsin has been a state, tracing its roots to a clause in the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin decreeing that the young state should have a prominent public university. In 1848, legislators passed a bill that formally created the University of Wisconsin. Its first class, with 17 students, met in Madison on February 5, 1849.

From these humble beginnings, the university has grown into a large, diverse community with more than 45,589 students representing every county in Wisconsin, 50 states, and 123 countries.

Across campus, the words “sifting and winnowing” often appear when describing UW–Madison’s intellectual life. They date back to an 1894 Board of Regents statement on academic freedom:

“Whatever may be the limitations which trammel inquiry elsewhere, we believe that the great state University of Wisconsin should ever encourage that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found.”

Inspired by this spirit, scholarly inquiry has fed a steady stream of discoveries. From vitamins, agricultural techniques and wildlife ecology to stem cells, biofuels and economic well-being, the university continues to foster ideas and research that change lives.

UW–Madison is the oldest and largest campus in the University of Wisconsin System. Its mission is to provide “a learning environment in which faculty, staff, and students can discover, examine critically, preserve and transmit the knowledge, wisdom, and values that will help ensure the survival of this and future generations and improve the quality of life for all.”

The university strives to achieve these ends through the continual advancement of its teaching, research, and public service programs. Throughout its history, the university has sought to bring the power of learning into students’ daily lives through innovations such as residential learning communities and service learning courses.

We are motivated by the “Wisconsin Idea”—articulated a century ago as the principle that the university’s influence should benefit everyone in the state. Today, this principle has expanded to a global scale. The Wisconsin Idea continues to permeate everything we do, helping to forge close partnerships between faculty, staff, and students, and people, communities, and industries around the world.

Program Notes

The school and college flags used in today’s ceremony were commissioned for Commencement by Chancellor Rebecca Blank. They are used in this and other similar ceremonies, including the Chancellor’s Convocation for incoming students—the complementary celebration to Commencement that begins students’ university careers.

The flags’ background wave design reflects the university’s location along Lake Mendota. Colors on each flag reflect the traditional academic colors for the courses of study within each school or college. The Graduate School, School of Education, and College of Letters & Science are multicolored, representing their varied disciplines. Flags also feature the year in which each school or college was founded, from 1848 for the Law School and School of Medicine and Public Health (authorized in the charter for the newly created university) to 1983 for the School of Veterinary Medicine.

Flag bearers in the opening procession were selected by the dean of each school and college to represent their fellow students.

Academic Attire

Gowns

Gowns represent the three principal levels of academic achievement. The bachelor's gown, symbolizing the first degree, is made of black material and has a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master's candidates wear a black gown with a closed front and long, closed sleeves. The gown worn by doctoral candidates has an open front with bell-shaped sleeves. Doctoral gowns are further embellished with velvet trim in the form of crossbars on the sleeves. In spring 2017, the gown designs were updated to include the University of Wisconsin–Madison colors and crest logo, providing both a pop of red among the traditional sea of black and an additional display of UW spirit that's recognizable to all.

Hoods

Academic hoods are used as a further means of identifying the level of degree attainment. The bachelor's hood, worn only by those who have previously received a baccalaureate degree, is rather short with a narrow velvet edging the color of the appropriate discipline and a lining in the color of the institution—cardinal at Wisconsin. The master's hood is considerably longer, has a wider velvet edging and exposes more of the lining. Doctoral hoods have the widest velvet edging, wide panels at either side, greater length, and a fully exposed lining.

Caps and Tassels

Candidates for the bachelor's degree wear the black mortarboard cap with tassels of their course color. The tassel is worn on the right side until the formal conferral of the degree. At that time, the tassel is moved from the right to the left side. Candidates for the Law JD and SJD degrees wear an 8-sided black tam with a gold tassel. Candidates for all advanced degrees wear black mortarboard caps with black tassels on the left side. Some holders of degrees from other countries or institutions wear special hats which are distinctive to their degree. Graduates displaying the red and white philanthropy cord have chosen to make a financial gift commitment of support to the university.

Honors

Bachelor's degree candidates with distinctive scholastic achievement wear cardinal stoles over the fronts of their gowns. Bachelor's degree candidates participating in an honors program wear white stoles with cardinal bars.

Honorary Degrees

Honorary degrees from UW–Madison recognize individuals with careers of extraordinary accomplishment. The Committee on Honorary Degrees looks to sustained and characteristic activity as its warrant: uncommonly meritorious activity exhibiting values that are esteemed by UW–Madison. Preference is given to those who are connected in some significant way to the state or the university.

Schools, colleges, and departments submit nominations to the Committee on Honorary Degrees, a central part in the process of awarding honorary degrees. The committee is composed of 28 members, including the chancellor and the UW System president or their designees. 16 members are selected by the faculty, four from each of the four faculty divisions of the university (arts and humanities, biological sciences, physical sciences, social sciences). The chancellor appoints 10 members from the faculty or the administration.

Finalists are submitted to the chancellor and the Board of Regents for review. Once approved, the Faculty Senate votes, with a three-fourths affirmative vote required for confirmation.

As a matter of policy, emeritus faculty members are not eligible for honorary degrees solely on the basis of their performance while at UW–Madison. The university cannot grant honorary degrees to those who have held elected office in the state in the past two years, nor to anyone employed by the University of Wisconsin within the past two years.

This list of graduate degree candidates was compiled from information available to the Office of the Registrar and to the Graduate School as of April 9, 2021, and should not be regarded as conclusive evidence of graduation or academic standing.

Selection as an honors candidate indicates participation in the Honors Program in the student's school or college.

Agriculture Hall

This list of undergraduate degree candidates was compiled from information available to the Office of the Registrar as of April 9, 2021, and should not be regarded as conclusive evidence of graduation or academic standing.

UW–Madison does not use Latin honorifics such as cum laude. Students honored for distinctive scholastic achievement have completed a minimum of 60 credits at UW–Madison and have a cumulative grade-point average placing them within the top 20 percent of graduating students in the school or college.

Selection as an honors candidate indicates participation in the Honors Program in the student's school or college.
